

Conversations on Race and Policing

*A Student-Hosted Panel Presentation and Campus Conversation
Featuring Students, Staff, Administrators, Faculty, and Campus Guests*

Wednesday, June 10, 2020, 4pm

Please click the link below to join the webinar on Wednesday at 4:

<https://csusb.zoom.us/j/97960458784>

JOIN US LIVE VIA ZOOM for a student-hosted panel presentation and campus conversation on issues related to racism, racial violence, police brutality, and their impact on the community. Panelists will include students, faculty, staff, administrators, and campus guests and topics will range from institutional racism and history, to community responses to police violence, and campus support resources.

HOSTS: MARLO BROOKS and KAMERON PYANT are both currently students at CSUSB, and will host and moderate the event.

PANELISTS: Dr. RAFIK MOHAMED is Dean of the CSUSB College of Social and Behavioral Sciences. KATHRYN ERVIN (MFA) is Professor of Theater Arts. Dr. ALEXIS NORRIS and Dr. ZACHARY POWELL are both Assistant Professors in the Department of Criminal Justice. ANTHONY ROBERSON is the Associate Director of Operations in the CSUSB Santos Manuel Student Center. Dr. MARC ROBINSON is Assistant Professor of History. Representatives of the Westside Action Group will also join the conversation. Like previous events in this series of campus conversations, this event will be recorded and posted at the CSUSB History Club YouTube page: <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCILJkNoG6YO3AHF5nbE5pMA> For questions, contact Jeremy Murray: jmurray@csusb.edu