INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLICANT: Organize your essay into the following three parts, and address the points raised in each part. This essay or personal statement will be used to determine how well you meet the criteria for this scholarship award. Write your essay clearly, correctly (grammar, punctuation, etc.) and stay within the given word limits. Then submit your completed Essay or Personal Statement Form, and where applicable, attach appropriate documentation or evidence (e.g. verification letters from advisers, recognition letters, certificates, etc.) to support your essay or personal statement.

Part 1: Academic Excellence (60%).

Describe your achievements in terms of academic excellence: (1) your GPA, grades earned in courses, including independent studies, taken at CSUSB; and (2) other academic awards and recognitions you have received while studying at CSUSB (excluding scholarship awards), such as: presentations at academic conferences or meetings, successful participation at research competitions, Dean's List awardee, recognition of scholarly work or contribution, academic or scholarly publication, etc. (Word Limit: 350 words)

Part 2: Campus, Off-Campus and/or Community Activities (40%)

Campus Service refers to your involvement in activities on campus and how you help promote Asian and Asian/American cultures and communities on campus. Describe here (1) your leadership and/or significant contributions to student organizations, events and activities on campus that promote Asian and Asian/American cultures and communities; and, (2) your participation or service in student organizations, campaigns, committees, volunteer work, and other activities on campus that promote Asian and Asian/American cultures and communities. In this section, describe your participation in off-campus events, projects, activities, etc., that promote Asian and Asian/American cultures and communities, including any position or membership in off-campus organizations that promote Asian cultures and Asian/Asian-American communities.
