

Course
Progression for CD
Majors

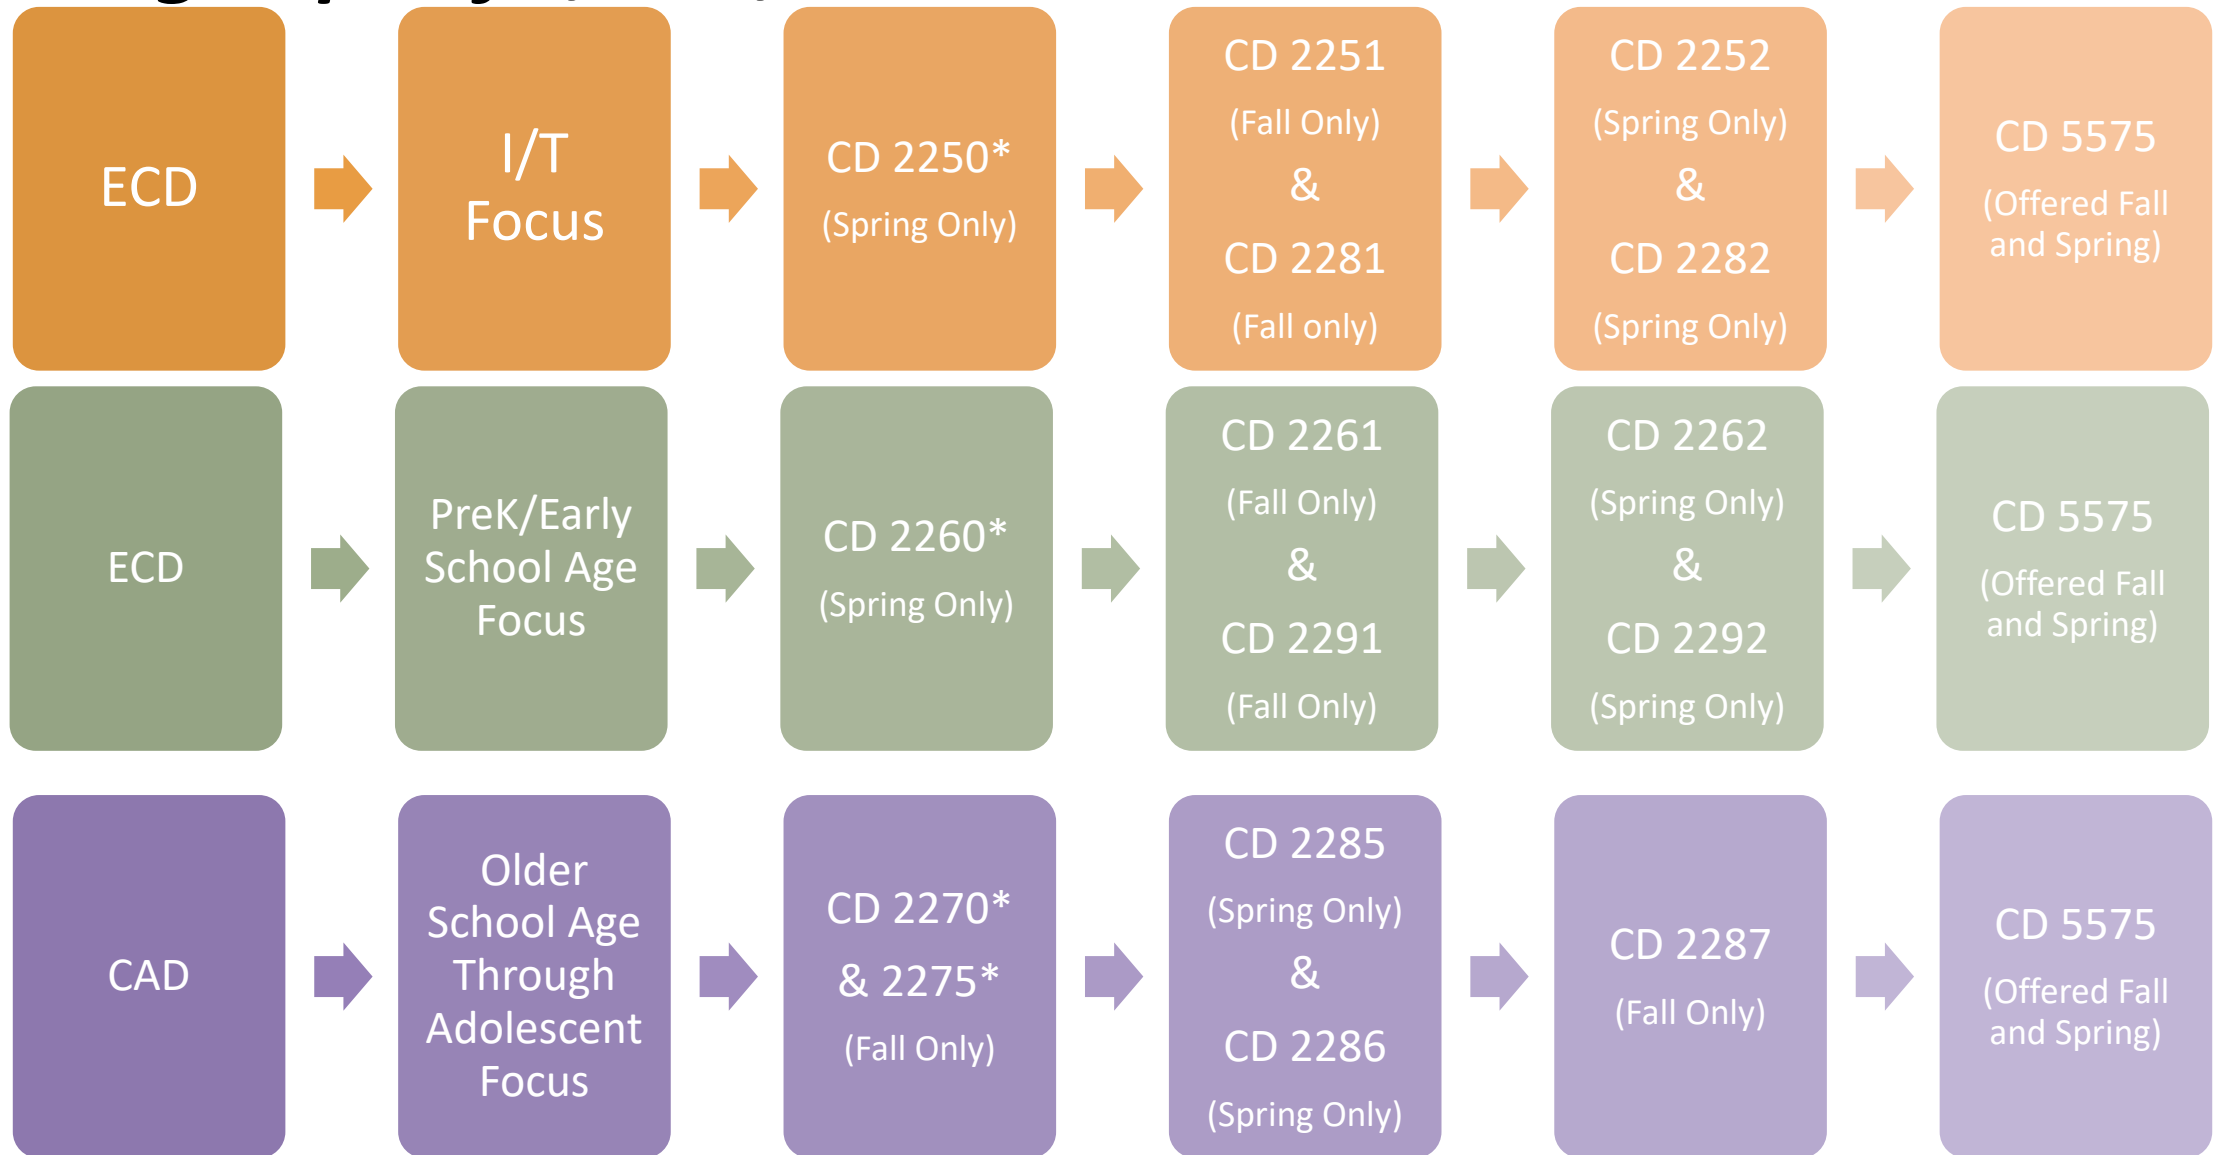

How to Navigate Required Observation, Lab, and Advanced Practicum Courses

- All CD students are required to complete observation, lab, and advanced practicum courses as part of their degree programs
- These courses must be taken in the required order AND during the correct semester
- Please note that some courses are only offered ONE TIME PER YEAR
- For further information about when to take courses, use the Degree Roadmaps
 - Child Development Roadmaps

*Historically offered during the summer in addition to the semester(s) indicated above. Summer offerings are dependent on sufficient enrollment and are not guaranteed.

Age Specific, Lab, and Advanced Practicum Courses

*Historically offered during the summer in addition to the semester(s) indicated above. Summer offerings are dependent on sufficient enrollment and are not guaranteed.

How to Enroll in Lab Courses and Advanced Practicum

- Enroll in whichever course you are ELIGIBLE to take through MyCoyote during your enrollment appointment
- DO NOT enroll in a course if you HAVE NOT met the prerequisites.
 - For example, you are not eligible to enroll in CD 5575 until you have completed CD 2282, 2292, or CD 2287. Generally, this means you will be taking CD 5575 during your Junior or Senior year
- All lab courses and the advanced practicum course include both a seminar and clinical section. When you enroll, you will know the time and day of the seminar class immediately
- Your practicum site will be arranged before the semester begins

How to Select an IN-PERSON Lab/Advanced Practicum Site

You will receive an email from your lab or advanced practicum instructor before the semester begins

This email will be sent to your student email address and will contain a link to select your placement site (including the day and time you will be attending)

Access to this link is first-come-first-serve

Sites are pre-selected and you DO NOT choose your own placement site. In addition, you may NOT use your place of employment to complete your advanced practicum and/or lab hours

Expect to be at your lab site for 3 hours per week and your advanced practicum site for about 6 hours each week to fulfil the required hours.

Currently in-person practicum sites are only available for CD 2281, 2282, 2291, 2292, and 5575. Students taking CD 2286 and 2287 are completing virtual assignments at this time