

TITLE IX REPORTING OPTIONS

Institutional Equity and Compliance

Campus resources are available in the event that you or someone you know experiences sex- or gender-based discrimination or harassment, including sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, sexual exploitation, dating or domestic violence, stalking, or related retaliation. To learn more about CSUSB's policies and procedures relating to Title IX, please use the QR code below in the Institutional Equity and Compliance box to visit the office's website.

Institutional Equity & Compliance

Contact the Institutional Equity & Compliance (IEC) Office for supportive resources such as No Contact Directives. The Office of Institutional Equity & Compliance is also available should you want to request a university investigation. If you request a meeting with IEC you will not be obligated to pursue any action; the purpose of the meeting is to ensure you know your rights and options.

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS)

Confidential short-term and crisis counseling services to students at CSUSB. For more information regarding services, visit csusb.edu/caps

Additional Resources

Law Enforcement- UPD

CSUSB's University Police Department (UPD) investigates reports of sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking for potential criminal prosecution. A report to UPD does not require the name of a survivor or perpetrator to be identified on the campus.
Phone: (909) 537-5165 or (909) 537-7777

For Medical Assistance

You may seek medical care to test for sexually transmitted infections, pregnancy, or physical injury. Medical staff must report sexual and domestic violence to law enforcement, but that does not mean a survivor has to file a report.
